Policy

The Board of Directors and management of Organisation Name are committed to compliance with all national "and international"

data protection laws and regulations, and maintaining appropriate procedures and work instructions as part of its privacy information management system (PIMS).

"There are restrictions on the transfer of personal data from x to y, or outside x."

"To this end, Organisation Name has chosen to achieve conformity with the PIMS standard, ISO/IEC 27701:2019."

Fundamental to data protection and privacy is the protection of the PII (personally identifiable information) principals. Organisation Name recognises the PII principals' inviolable rights in relation to their PII, and implements measures to protect those rights.

Organisation Name's data protection and privacy objectives, set out in the Information Security and Privacy Objectives Record, are aligned with the organisation's broader information security and business objectives. These objectives, and plans to achieve them, are developed in accordance with the business objectives, the context of the organisation, the results of risk assessments and the risk treatment plan.

Organisation Name is also committed to upholding contractual terms related to privacy and data protection agreed with its partners, its subcontractors and its applicable third parties (customers, suppliers, etc.), and ensures that appropriate roles and responsibilities for these matters are identified and addressed in contracts.

This policy applies to all personal data held by Organisation Name, including on wireless notebook computers, personal digital assistants and mobile telephones, and to personal data held by other organisations on Organisation Name's behalf.
